I am holding at the plow; O Death! I hear your summ But I cannot heed it now; See you not I'm pushing on— Buying, building, scheming, thriving Half my life-work not yet done.

No! I cannot heed your aummons; See you not I've work to do!

When my three-score years are over Then, G Death, I'll think of you; Lightly, then, I'll reach the river, Stoutly breast the rolling tide,— Oh! give time to face the Judgmen Waiting on the other side!

When—sh! how your bony fingers Strain my heart-strings, chill my brew— DRAIN! O grasp me not so tightly— Wait, until Death answers-Now!

Grant, O Ged, may I be ready When thy messenger shall come Though the iron shall be shapeless Though the plow be in the loan;

Whatsoe'er my earthly losses, Whatsoe'er life's blessings be; May my triumphs and my crosses Bring me nearer, Lord, to Thee Bring me nearer, Lord, to Thee.
Thou cansi make the swifel auminons
Angels' whispers to mine ear;
Chilling blood and breaking heart-strings,
Thrillie of loy, if Thou art near!
Waiting, working, praying, hoping,
While the shadows creep space;
Glinging to Thee—resting on Thee,
Death is but Thy crowning grace.
